Other There are truly no limits to the props that one can utilize to express their exotic creativity. For example, the secretary who crosses her legs slowly, picks up her notepad and sensually begins to take notes. The way you drink your coffee, clean the house, or even walk the dog. Each gesture is an expression. What are you saying in the way you move through the world? You are encouraged to bring everyday items to explore how conscious movement in your every day can make a difference in your life.
